- All riders must wear helmets while riding on property.
- Please do not interrupt scheduled riding lessons.
- No food or drink in the riding ring.
- Ring courtesy is expected at all times.

Regarding safety:

- Children, pets, or guests may not be unsupervised.
- Please do not turn out horses in other than designated pasture.
- For safety concerns, please do not leave your horse unattended.

Regarding care of horses:

- Please do NOT alter your horse's diet with feed, hay or supplements without our knowledge. We take your horse's feed management program very seriously. Feel free to discuss any changes or concerns with us.
- Stalls are to be used only by stall boarded horses unless by special permission.
- Humane treatment of horses and safe and responsible behavior around them is expected

Regarding board policies:

- New horses must have a current negative coggins and proof of current shots on file with us as well as information on the current feeding program. If it is a feed we do not stock, we ask that you provide transition feed for us.
- All boarding fees are expected to be paid promptly.
- All barn forms and board contracts must be signed upon arrival at Tuxbury.
- Sufficient notice of departure (30 days) is expected prior to leaving Tuxbury.
- Transportation of a horse for any emergency is the responsibility of the horse owner.
- Fees and barn policies are subject to change as necessary. We are not in the habit of raising prices without sufficient warning.

Regarding showing students:

- Tuxbury Farm is not responsible for any policies, transportation or regulation of fees for any events off -premises.
- Showing students and instructors must have their own supplies. Tuxbury property of any kind is not permitted to be taken from the property without permission.

Regarding the sale and purchase of horses:

- Tuxbury Farm does not participate in the purchase or sale of any horses other than our schooling horses. We highly recommend that you proceed with the guidance of a professional. Please be sure you and the instructor are clear on the terms of your agreement including commissions, fees, duration or exclusions of your contract, and the feedback you can expect. You will be responsible for complying with any insurance requirements for a horse on trial, and for a signed bill of sale if he is purchased.

Horses on trial:

- Tuxbury is happy for you to bring a horse on trial, space permitting, but it must be understood that you will assume the expense of that horse the entire time he remains on the property as well as any transportation fees incurred. Daily rate is $25/daily.
- As with new horses, horses on trial must have negative coggins, feed instructions along with feed and hay, if it is different from ours, and recent shot records. Horses on trial will be turned out alone until they are formally purchased or leased. Trial time limit is 2 weeks.

It takes all of us to make our farm the home of “happy horses and happy people”.

We want to thank you in advance for doing your part and make a commitment to you that we will work diligently to do our part!
